ARISTOTLE UNIVERISTY OF THESSALONIKI

FACULTY OF ECONOMIC AND POLITICALS CIENCES

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCES

Invitation to a lecture

EU migration policy: The management of multiple crises from 2020 onwards and its implications for European integration and the Union's external relations

Tuesday 14 March 2023, 17:00

The Chair Jean Monnet "The fundamentals of European integration: democracy, institutions and policies" in cooperation with the Erasmus+-funded project "Intercultural Learning Online" invites you to a lecture by Dr. Dimitrios-Rafail Tservenis (Department of Political Sciences, University of Thessaloniki) on 'EU migration policy: The management of multiple crises from 2020 onwards and its implications for European integration and the Union's external relations' that will take place on Tuesday 14 March 2023 at 17:00.

The lecture will take place in a hybrid form, In room 212 (2nd floor, Law and Politics building)

and

online through the zoom platform
https://authgr.zoom.us/j/98987728687?pwd=bm9ScXhuc1pBTUsrSk9DZExPaitUZz09 (Meeting ID: 989 8772 8687 and Passcode: 749328)

Dimitrios-Rafail Tservenis holds a PhD from the School of Political Sciences of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, where he completed his doctorate in 2021, focusing on migrant integration in the rural areas of Southern Europe. His academic research mainly covers the multi-level governance of migrant integration in Europe and migrants' well-being, with a special focus on Greece and Italy. In the last two years, he has worked mostly for the Center for European Studies and Comparative Politics of Sciences Po (Paris), and specifically for the project ETHMIGSURVEYDATA, which aims to improve access to and use of quantitative survey data on the economic, social and political integration of migrant and ethnic minorities in Europe. Prior to that, he worked in various organisations active in the field of migrant integration and refugee reception in Greece and Italy.

A discussion with the guest speaker will follow.